AN EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF SILKS

Thousands of Yards of Silks at Less Than Today's Cost to Produce

Newest of This Season's Silks

New Silks direct from the factory, which on account of labor conditions and the recent freight embargo, have after three months' delay been just delivered at our store.

Were Bought On a Low Market

Contracts for these Silks were placed last fall, when prices were much lower—we assure you not a piece in this lot can be manufactured today at anything like the prices at which we offer them in this sale.

Every Kind of Silk Included

In this offering there is practically every kind of silk made—Taffeta, Messaline, Satins, Foulards, and fancy weaves—all from the best American manufacturers, and are therefore dependable qualities in every way.

Silks For All Purposes

There are silks for every purpose—white silks for graduation, evening shades for receptions, navy and black silks for street wear and smart tricolettes for sport wear.

Every Woman Will Be Interested

No woman can afford to miss this sale. It is most opportune, coming at a time when new wardrobes are being planned—and when the savings that are offered will be appreciated.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

More than a thousand persons gathered at St. James' church Sunday following a solemn high mass to witness the dedication of the statue of Joan of Arc, the newest saint of the church. The statue is erected by the parish as an expression of gratitude for the noble service rendered by upward of 150 young men of St. James' church who served in the world war, and will stand as an inspiration for patriotism through the years to come.

The dedication of the statue was preceded by a solemn high mass with Rev. M. J. Ginet, M. S., celebrant, Rev. John T. Ledwith, M. S., deacon and Rev. A. J. Joliver, M. S., sub-deacon. The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. John Roux, M. S., in French, and by Rev. Father Ledwith, in English, this sermon being delivered from the steps at the main entrance of the church.

Soldiers in whose honor the statue is erected were present in uniform to participate in the exercises.

Children of St. James' parochial school, members of the Bohemian societies and a throng of parishioners assisted at the dedication. National colors veiled the statue, which is of bronze, mounted on a granite block to which is affixed a bronze tablet inscribed with the names of the men in whose honor the statue was raised.

Fathers Roux and Ledwith traced the wonderful life history of Joan of Arc, Patron of France, in sermons that were most impressive.

Mrs. Mary J. Cady, died Saturday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Arthur Edward, in Elmville, where she had made her home for several years.

Mrs. Cady was a native of Glastonbury, this state, and the widow of John Cady. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alice Hayes of Uxbridge, Mass., and Miss Mabel Hayes of Los Angeles, Cal.

At the home of her son, Byron E. Round, in South Foster, Saturday, the death of Mrs. Caroline E. Round, 83, occurred. Mrs. Round was born in Scituate, R. I., but since her girlhood days had lived in the town of Uxbridge. She was the widow of James E. Round.

PUTNAM

Effort to make the Salvation Army drive for $500 for its Home Service fund was productive of good results on Saturday, when several hundred dollars were obtained here. The canvass was carried out much after the manner that had been planned, the day's program bringing in the evening dancing in Union square. Showers that came late in the afternoon had the effect of spoiling in some degree the "dance floor" which was the paving of the square. The dancers were not so numerous in the early part of the evening as had been hoped would be the case, but as the evening wore on more and more couples entered into the enjoyment of the occasion. The crowd that gathered to watch the dancing and to hear the music by the North Grosvenordale band was so large at times as to remind one of the similar scene in the same place on the evening of Welcome Home day, last Labor day.

The square was kept clear of motor vehicles and drivers of these machines found difficulty in finding a location in which to leave their cars. Main street, Union, Canal, Pomfret and other streets were crowded to capacity with cars and many more machines were parked in the rear of the Putnam inn.

The Salvation Army added to its revenue of the day through sales of doughnuts and coffee.

The drive for the Home Service fund is being continued this week, when an effort will be made to reach hundreds were not reached in the Tag-day conducted here on Saturday.

Mrs. Mary LeMay, 64, who is dead at her home here, was the wife of Henry LeMay, formerly of Danielson. LeMay was born in Canada, but had lived the greater part of her life in towns in this vicinity.

It was stated in police circles Sunday that more intoxicated persons were seen about the streets here Saturday than has been the case for a long time. One arrest was made of a man who will be charged in court today with having been intoxicated. Much of the liquor that is being used here comes from Rhode Island, it is stated. Many of those who drink to the point of becoming intoxicated are not drinking honest goods, liquors, however, but are getting drunk on Jamaica ginger, vanilla and wintergreen essences and other such concoctions containing a high percentage of alcohol.

Both the lodge rooms and Union hall will be used Tuesday evening by the Elks in giving the annual Ladies' night entertainment. The Florentine singers of Boston are to be featured in the entertainment program that has been prepared by the committee in charge. The Union hall is to be decorated and Hey's orchestra of Whitinsville is to play. Union hall will be especially decorated for the event, which will bring Elks and their guests from all of the towns in this vicinity.

A spelling team representing Putnam High school will go to Danielson Tuesday evening to engage in a spelling contest with a team representing Killington High school. It is expected that members of the faculty and many of the pupils will go to Danielson to attend the match.

Representatives of the recruiting division of the United States army will be in Putnam again at the end of this week. Recruits are being sought here, and the inducements for young men to enter the navy are now greater than ever before.

State Officer Howard Elliott of Hartford was a visitor in Putnam over Sunday.

Only one veteran of the Civil war is left in the town of Union—G. W. Thayer. This year the Memorial day exercises in that town will be in charge of the members of the Sons of Veterans. Arthur Thayer, a past grand knight of Carroll council of this city, will be a member of the Connecticut delegation to the supreme convention of the organization.

F. Wood of Academy street. Mrs. Tufts is a former resident of Danielson. Direct from the bleachery—large job lot white and colored waist materials—shirting, serim, marquisettes, oxfords, poplins—less than wholesale prices. 42 to 70 cents yard. At the Fabric Shop—adv.

The French drama, Joan of Arc, was presented in the town hall Monday by a group of members of St. James' church and attracted a capacity audience, which was very well pleased with the production.

The cantata Ruth was admirably given at the vesper service at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon. In addition to singing in the cantata, Hugh Kinder of Norwich sang as solo numbers. It is enough and the aria from Elijah.

the Knights of Columbus to be held in New York during the summer.

The Glee club of the Connecticut Agricultural college of Storrs is coming to Putnam this evening under the auspices of Putnam grange. The club has 31 members.

The front wheel of a bicycle ridden by a boy was crushed under an automobile in the business section here Saturday evening. The rider of the bicycle escaped without injury.

Rev. Boynton Merrill and other representatives of the Congregational church of this city will be at Windham Thursday attending the annual meeting of the Windham Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers. Advance charges for their professional services have been agreed upon by nearly all of Putnam's physicians and these new charges are now in effect.

Labor agents have been in this city during the past few days seeking to hire families to go to other places in New England, but without much success, so far as can be learned.

UNCASVILLE

Members of Mrs. Laura Chapman's family, with friends, hung her a May basket Monday night as a birthday surprise party. A very enjoyable evening was spent during which cake and ice cream were served. ### MOOSUP

Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at All Hallows' church Miss Rose DeLoe, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey DeLoe of this village, became the bride of Samuel Kay, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph E. McCarthy, who also sang the nuptial mass. The bride was gown in white beaded georgette. She wore a veil and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Yvonne Jarre, of Taftville, wore light blue messaline and georgette and a picture hat of blue. The groom was attended by Joseph Labonte, an uncle of the bride.

A breakfast served at the home of the bride in Almyville was attended by relatives and friends from Taftville, Baltic, Norwich, Wauregan and Stafford Springs. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a sapphire ring, the groom gave his attendant gold cuff links. The bride received many beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay left on the boat train Tuesday evening for New York. The
